WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

DICKENS AS A READER.

Of Mr. Dickens as an author we need not now speak. His position is settled, for high or low, for good, bad, or indifferent, in the minds of all reading men and women. The people who idolize Dickens, the author, cannot be shaken from their hero worship; and those who don't like him cannot be made to see what it is that other folks find so wonderful in his writings. But of Mr. Dickens as a reader, as a histrionic artist, we do not think there can be two opinions. Here his power is supreme, and beyond cavil. Here he shows a side of the shield which everybody can see to be gold, malloyed. Even those who do not enjoy Dickens as they read him cannot fail to revel in him as read by himself. Why is this? What is the secret of this man, commanding, as he does, at will, the tears and laughter of large audiences, or keeping them hushed and spell bound—the latter condition of his hearers being no less a proof of his skill than the eliciting of their active emotions? To put the answer into one word, we should say—Art—his elaborate, consummate art. Dickens, the author, is a genius beyond doubt; but Dickens, the reader, is a most finished artist. There is no need of supposing that the divine faculty for the one species of work extends into the other; for there was Shakespeare, the greatest of all geniuses, who was a very common sort of an acter in his own plays, if we may credit tradition. Plenty of genius has existed—notably that of our own Irving—which never attained unto the mystery of thinking on one's legs, or standing up in public, in a less graceful attitude than that of the town pump.

We say that Mr. Dickens is a great artist. In the preface to one of his books he has acknowledged his indebtedness to hard work; and even his freest and freshest literary achievements bear the marks of patient toil. He is known to have carried into his readings the same method of study, care, and precision, and to have regarded the whole business in its minutest details as a matter of deliberate design. He neglects nothing that can contribute to effect. Take the version of his writings which he made. They differ from the published form in being trimmed, compressed, all the by-play and padding left out, and all the points and hits retained. We were particularly impressed with this in the neat reduction of the Christmas Carol to the smallest compass consistent with telling the story clearly; and also with the self-denying resolution manifested in omitting many of the ludicrous incidents, description, and dialogue in the Pickwick Trial. Mr. Dickens takes great care not to bore his audiences, but bows his retirement to them, while they still have a good appetite for more; an excellent rule for feasts of reason and flows of soul, as well as for more palpable banquets.

Look, too, at the mise en scene. A purple screen behind him (a pleasant color to look at, though it impares an unpleasant complimentary green to other objects, ladies' faces included,) against which his figure stands in bold relief; powerful gas lights at each side, shedding their glare upon him alone; a mere skeleton of a lectern, which does not conceal the form of the speaker; even the inevitable English bottle of water (English water!) and tumbler standing upon the side of the desk, from the which he rewards himself with a sip after each stave of his carol, as Addison was reported to have done with a stronger beverage, at the termination of an uncommonly fine paragraph, and there are a great many such stopping places in the Spectator. This is all art, and so are the little bonnet in the left button-hole of his coat, second from top and the other details of his dress, into which Sartorian particulars we do not propose to enter. So much for what many persons would consider only trifles.

But when Dickens begins to read we see that all this preparation is a type of what follows; that it is the perfect prelude of a perfect work. For here, at every step, we discern the most patient study, the most conscientious care. His voice, though not very strong, (and a trifle husky the first night,) quite fills the large house. His accent is of a well bred Englishman, but his pronunciation is clearer, more distinct, and every way more agreeable to American ears than that of most of his countrymen, even the cultivated ones. It is very flexible, and managed with great skill, so as to give the growl of old Scrooge, the baby chirp of Tiny Tim, the bluster of Sergeant Buzzfuz, and the insanity of Mr. Justice Stareleigh to perfection. From one character to another, among the dozen or so which figure in the Carol, he passes with perfect ease, never for a moment confounding the tones which are a part of their individuality. No less appropriate are the gestures and the changing facial expressions—all finished studies, delicate touches like those of a cameo cutter. When he describes the mashing of the potatoes for the Cratchit feast, he mashes invisible murphies with his hand. He sniffs audibly to express sage and onions, and the audience can almost smell that corollary of the Christmas goose. The crackle of chest-nuts on the fire he somehow brings home to us by a nervous lightning motion of his hands. When he wishes to bring before our mind that contra-dance, of which old Fezziwig was the brigat particular star, he mimics the woven paces all about his reading-desk. This gesticulation and facial change is humor or pathos at pleasure. In Bob Cratchit's lament over poor Tiny Tim, it touches the fountain of tears, in reader and listener alike; and in old Weller's observations from the gallery, it puts hearers into convulsions of laughter, from which Dickens himself can hardly refrain.

And so on. We might quote a hundred instances, if we cared to, from his readings, to illustrate the thorough, pains taking art of Dickens, the reader, with which his genius as an author has nothing to do. If his coming here shall elevate the standard of public readings and recitations, it will have had one very beneficial effect.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

WENDELL PHILLIPS.

We find in the Hartford Times the following pen portrait of this notorious personage, who is now quite in a pet at the failure of the impeachment business, which he thinks was caused by the radical cowardice of the Republican party. The Times says:

"The Union has never had a more persistent or bitter opponent than Wendell Phillips. He has hated it thoroughly, and talked a great deal to weaken and destroy it. Phillips is a man of learning and of wealth. He devotes his time to the preparation of lectures, and writes two or three a year and delivers them to audiences wherever he can get pay, as he does from the Young Men's Institute when he comes to Hartford. He prepares each lecture with great care—spending two or three months upon a single production. He eliminates, elaborates, polishes,—finishes it. Then he learns every word by heart, studies the effect of every intonation of the voice and every gesture in its delivery. When fully prepared he delivers the lecture in as many cities as he can find associations to employ and pay him for it. He always begins with the same word, makes the same bow within the fraction of an inch—speaks in the same tone of voice—pauses the same length of time at every place where effect is given by a pause, and he ends in each case with the same word and the same bow. From beginning to end, word for word, comma for comma, gesture for gesture, all the way through, it is the same in Boston, Hartford, New York, etc. He articulates with clearness, and every one of his studied words is heard in every part of the hall. Phillips is a cold, unsympathizing man. He cares little for the world, for his neighbors or fellow men, but he cares for his own ideas—his own hobby, and he makes every thing bend to this hobby. He assumes premises as false as an untruth, and builds an argument upon them. He commands the attention of his hearers by his finely turned periods and striking illustrations, and covers the errors of his premises by finely written but spacious arguments.

The Powhatan Steamers connect at Petersburg with Petersburg Railway for all points in the Carolinas. Cars are run alongside of Steamers' Wharf and goods transferred with careful handling. Cars are run through without breaking bulk between Petersburg and Raleigh, Charlotte, Goldsboro', Wilmington, &c., &c. This Inland Line possesses many advantages over a Sea Route. Marine risk is small and insurance is comparatively nothing. The Wharf of the Powhatan Steamers being situated in the very centre of the great shipping district of Baltimore, renders it convenient to shippers, and drayage is very small.

Great attention paid to consignments of Cotton, Corn, Wheat, Rosin, &c. &c. All produce forwarded at the lowest possible rates.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1867.

THE GREAT QUESTION.

We will not add to the general depression which prevails in the South. Sadness and dejection disturb almost every thoughtful mind. The sprightly fires of other days burn dull and darkly on our once happy hearth stones. Sorrow for the "loved and the lost," has given place to the gloom which fills every mind as to the present and the future. Even the children have forgotten their wonted glee, so marked are the sombre faces of parents and those upon whom they are wont to depend. Why this?

The terrible calamities of the late war in the midst of its raging, were borne with manly and womanly fortitude. The sad catastrophe of defeat, though it came crushing to many a heart, did not destroy in us all hope. The promises of the future were still hopeful. The energy, the strong will, the consciousness of rectitude and the hope that God had not forsaken us, still buoyed up our suffering people. Even the stroke of dissappointment at the failure of President Johnson's policy, though it made the clouds over us more dark and threatening, did not quite extinguish all hope.

In the winter of 1865, our Radical Congress determined to "reconstruct." Two years have elapsed since they undertook the work. And they have been at it, and at it, ever since; and during all this long period, our farmers have been digging and delving, our mechanics and artisans, our merchants and tradesmen, our old men and matrons, our young men and maidens have done their best to keep up their spirits and to hope on and to hope ever, and yet no silver lining cheers the deep, dark cloud which still lowers over us.

Radical reconstruction so far, has only served to make the gloom more profound. Should it become an accomplished fact, we predict the case will be far worse. Talk of emigration—talk of capitalists coming among us to invest money—talk of a brighter and a better day under Radical rule, where is the hope of it? Upon what pretense can the most honest Radical build such a hope upon? Will men who can make good citizens migrate to a country, where the negro is made all powerful to place the control of the country in the hands of a class of whites who are bankrupt in purse, bankrupt in intelligence, and bankrupt in character? Will men of character and capital invest their funds where the political control of the country is in the hands of such men? Impossible! Sooner look for industry, and enterprise, and prosperity, and good government, to break out spontaneously in the jungles of Africa.

What is wanted in the South is not only good government, peace and quiet, but money. Never before did our people realize so much the need and the value of money. What will bring it? Nothing but work—hard work and constant work. All must go to work. There is absolutely no room for idleness or extravagance. We must learn economy—to wear old clothes and coarse clothes, if we are not able to pay the cash for better. Our modes of living must be adapted to our circumstances, and if men will not work, then they must not eat. Above all we must be honest, "if the stars fall." Then call upon God and He will help us, when we cease to trust in man—in any other but the living God.

EMIGRATION FROM CABARRUS.—About thirty families from Cabarrus county, North Carolina, and the adjacent country recently left for Illinois. The reason assigned was short crops for several years, hard times generally, the unsettled state of the country, and a desire to get clear of the negroes.—Several families who migrated to Illinois from Iredell county, N. C., have returned to live and die in the Old North State. Many who left are desirous to return likewise; but having spent their means, are unable to do so. They have discovered that, after all, there's no place like home.—Norfolk Journal.

Intelligent citizens of the State and in every county, ought to interest themselves in giving our people the necessary information, to prevent their leaving the State. We have as good soil, as good a climate, as many honest people, as healthy a country, as the world can produce. It is as good a State to live in, and is as near Heaven when we die, as any country in Christendom.—This is no time to leave our old mother. Thousands who have gone away regret it, and many are coming back. Let us stand by the old State and rid her of Radical rule. A better time is yet coming, and the true sons of Carolina ought to resolve to die by her. Thank Heaven, that we were born in her. Huzza for the old "tar heel" State! Huzza for the noble "tar heels" that will die by her!

MIXED MARRIAGES.—Even the New York Tribune turns its back upon the miscegenators. It says:

"We can imagine no circumstances under which it would seem to us fit and wise that a white and a black person should be joined in the holy state of matrimony."

And yet the Tribune advocates a policy which will as inevitably result in mixed marriages among blacks and mean whites, as that efficient causes everywhere lead to their legitimate effects. Give the blacks of the South the controlling influence which the Radical policy proposes, and white persons in low condition and whose moral characters have forced them from contact with respectable whites, will seek marital connections with the black race and vice versa.

U. S. TROOPS.—We learn that two companies of U. S. Troops arrived on yesterday. These we presume take the place of troops to be removed.

GEN. POPE AS AN EXECUTIVE OFFICER.

The following private letter from Gen. Pope to Gen. Swayne, his second in command, presents that officer in a truly unenviable light. That an officer of the U. S. army could so ignore his high position and come down to the miserable trickery of a petty partisan, is humiliating indeed. The whole letter bears evidence of his partizan character and of his unfitness for his position, but the closing sentence of the letter is too bold for an old cross-road demagogue. Read it and blush for our country. We publish it as we find it in our exchanges:

HEADQ'RS THIRD MILITARY DISTRICT,
Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 20, 1867.

My Dear General:—I write you unofficially, as I do not wish to reply to your telegrams relating to the compensation of the members of the Convention. The reconstruction acts prescribe the manner in which such compensation shall be made, and I do not know that I have the authority to act at all in the matter.

I am willing, however, to sanction the payment of the Convention from funds now in the State treasury, under the following conditions:

1. That the Convention provide for the levy and collection of a special tax, in accordance with the requirements of the Reconstruction Acts, to cover the payment, which amount shall be paid in to the State Treasury before the end of the fiscal year.

2. That the compensation of the members of the Convention shall be fixed at a reasonable sum.

3. That the payments from the treasury be not made until the Convention has completed its work.

As I have said, I do not know that I have the authority to order this payment, but I will do so on the foregoing conditions.

In this connection, I hope you will suggest to the members of the Convention, that if the newspaper accounts are true, the amount of compensation they propose seems to me (as indeed, it does to everybody I have heard speak of it) excessive; and, if adopted, a very bad effect will be produced upon the friends of the Convention. The Convention should fix the lowest possible compensation for its members, barely enough to pay actual expenses. I cannot tell you what an unpleasant impression has been created by the newspaper reports on the subject.

I hope on every account that the Convention will finish its work and adjourn at an early day. If they knew how their proceedings are watched, alike by friend and enemy, and how much of their future depends upon their prompt and reasonable action, it seems to me that useless discussion should be avoided and a fair and satisfactory result reached in the shortest possible time. Every day they remain in session after the 20th of this month will be used as a reproach against them and will tend to discourage the friends of reconstruction everywhere.

I hope you will do what you can to urge these or similar views upon those who have influence.

I hold it of the greatest importance that the constitution be made as soon as possible. I speak not more for the interests of Alabama than for the interests of the political party upon whose retention of power for several years to come the success of reconstruction depends.

Truly your friend,
JOHN POPE.

COST OF RECONSTRUCTION.

If it be possible to obtain an investigation into the actual cost of Radical Reconstruction, we hope it will be done at once. Every effort will doubtless be made, to conceal from the public every thing that would excite their fears in regard to the immense expense which the Radical Congress is imposing upon the people. The intelligent correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette at Washington, says:

The cost of Congressional Reconstruction is now the subject of general comment among members of all shades of politics, and the most radical are wincing under the figures as presented by the Paymaster General of the Army. Saying nothing of the millions already appropriated and disbursed, the call for $1,202,254 to pay the deficiency in General Schofield's Department, and $1,252,000 in General Pope's Department, has astonished the gentlemen who have mounted the hobby of retrenchment—and could it be done without an exposure of their previous legislation a great hue and cry would be raised by the Radical economists in Congress. These deficiencies, however, involve the propriety of the Reconstruction acts and the administration of the Freedmen's Bureau, and hence these sums, and all other sums which may be called for during the present Congress, will be voted by the Radical majorities in the two Houses.

TRUSTEES OF THE UNIVERSITY.—This body met in the Executive office on yesterday. We regret to say, that only eleven members of the Board were present. The annual report of the Treasurer was presented. The general interests of the University and the matter of reorganization are under discussion.

COTTON PLANTING.—We extract the following in relation to cotton planting along the Mississippi from the columns of the Memphis Bulletin of the 26th. instant:

The cotton crop has been nearly all gathered, baled and sent forward. Farmers are clearing up the tail ends of their pickings, sacking their cotton seed, and closing up the season's work. On many plantations the hands have already been settled with and discharged, and owing to the extreme lightness of the crops, late employers are without means to longer furnish food for their laborers. In two weeks more the farmers will have entirely finished their work, and the entire laboring population will be discharged. Not one in twenty among the farmers have made crops enough to pay their merchants for the provisions they have advanced, and which have already been consumed. All the large planters have suffered losses of from five to fifty thousand dollars the past year's labor.—The condition of affairs is distressing in the extreme. The entire population is gloomy and despondent, and know not where to seek assistance for the coming year. The average yield along the river, among the best farmers, has not been over three bales to the hand.

Our Western exchanges report that the pork season has opened with much more vigor than in former years. The receipts of live hogs at Chicago during four days last week foot up 87,541—a larger number than ever before received there in the same space of time. The receipts on Tuesday were 41,000—the largest number ever marketed in the United States, or even the world, in any one day. There is speculation as to the probable length of the season. Some of the packers figure that the present season will not last more than thirty days, while others are of the opinion that it will certainly extend to the 1st of January.

STATE ITEMS.

HIGHWAY ROBBER KILLED.—We learn from the Newbern Republican that Mr. Cannon Cox killed, on Thursday last, near that city, James Ward, a negro. Ward, with two other negroes, attempted to rob Mr. Cox, Ward jumping into the cart which he was driving. The horse taking fright, left the other two, and in the struggle Cox choked Ward to death.

CLOSED.—Since the death of Capt. Farrell, the Weldon hotel has been closed, to the serious inconvenience of the traveling community. It will continue closed, we understand, for some week or more yet.—Roanoke News.

We learn that a fire occurred at the Taylor mills in Nash County on Friday night last, destroying the entire property, which was very valuable.

An Agricultural Fair came off at Asheville on Thursday the 12th. inst.

A meeting of the Conservatives of Wilkes county was held at Wilkesboro, on the 4th. instant, for the purpose of appointing Delegates to a State Convention, to be held in the City of Raleigh. The meeting was organized by calling James E. Reynolds, Esq., to the chair, and Philo E. Hall to act as Secretary. The following citizens were appointed delegates: James W. Hackett, Phineas Horton, E. M. Welborn, Elisha B. Phillips, Jas. O. Martin, Leland Martin, W. W. Hampton, Dr. C. L. Cook, Johnson Spicer, R. D. Brown, Col H. A. Brown, R. F. Hackett, Isaac N. Haynes, R. P. Armfield, Cleveland Eller, R. Colvard, Alfred Warren, Lindsey Jarvis, J. Adams, M. A. Parks, Hamilton Horton.

Pork is selling in Asheville, N. C., at 6½ to 8 cents, nett, as to quality.

The following are the Grand Officers of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina for the ensuing Masonic year:

"R. W. Best, Raleigh, Grand Master; Dr. J. G. Ramsay, Rowan County, Deputy Grand Master, (P. O. Rowan Mills); Gen. R. B. Vance, Asheville, Senior Grand Warden; T. M. Gardner, Wilmington, Junior Grand Warden; C. W. D. Hutchings, Raleigh, Grand Treasurer; D. W. Bain, Raleigh, Grand Secretary; Andrew Syme, Raleigh, Assistant Grand Secretary; Rev. J. A. Parish, Hillsboro, Grand Sword Bearer; J. A. Hedrick, Beaufort, Grand Pursuivant; J. M. Betts, Raleigh, Grand Tyler."

SENT TO THE INSANE ASYLUM.—We learn that Ellic, an insane negro who has annoyed the good people of Salisbury by his yells on the street for some weeks past, has been sent to the Insane Asylum at Raleigh. We further learn that Sheriff Walton, who carried him down reports that the Asylum is being filled to its utmost capacity, so that no more subjects can be admitted.—Old North State.

GEN. POINDEXTER.—This gentleman has been offered the appointment of Superior Court Judge to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Judge Fowle. It is the general desire of the people and the bar that he will accept. He is eminently capable, and there is not a purer man within the borders of our State.—Winston Sentinel.

Perhaps, it is more correct to say, that Gov. Worth will recommend Gen. Poindexter for the Judgeship, if he will consent to serve.—[Sentinel.

COL. J. R. EDIE.—In pursuance of General Orders, No. 145 issued from Charleston by General Canby on the 6th. instant, Col. Edie has been assigned to the command to the post of Laurensville, S. C., and has already left Salisbury for that place.

Col. Edie leaves Salisbury with the respect of our entire community and carries with him to his new field of duty the good wishes of numerous friends here.—Old North State.

The single State of North Carolina now pays annually more direct taxes to the General Government than the entire amount Great Britian proposed to levy on the Colonies, which attempt produced the war which made the then American Colonies free and independent States.

Judge Shipp will hold the Special Term of Union Superior Court on the 4th Monday in January.

The S. C. Conference of the M. E. Church South, has been in session at Morganton in this State, since Wednesday the 10th. inst.

IS SLAVERY ABOLISHED.

No, we do not admit, and we believe Congress has never admitted, that the assent of the States temporarily disorganized by their own act of rebellion was necessary to validate an amendment, nor that such States were entitled to be counted in the aggregate whereof the assent of three-fourths is required to ratify a Constitutional amendment.—Tribune.

It the Tribune will look at the official announcement by Secretary Seward of the adoption of the XIIIth amendment to the National Constitution, it will read the following:

"And whereas it appears from official documents on file in this department that the amendment to the Constitution of the United States proposed as aforesaid has been ratified by the Legislatures of the States of Illinois, Rhode Island, Michigan, Maryland, New York, West Virginia, Maine, Kansas, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Ohio, Missouri, Nevada, Indiana, Louisiana, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Vermont, Tennessee, Arkansas, Connecticut, New-Hampshire, South Carolina, Alabama, North Carolina, and Georgia, in all twenty-seven States;

"And whereas, the whole number of States in the United States is thirty six;

"And whereas, the before specially named States, whose Legislatures have ratified the said proposed amendment, constitute three-fourths of the whole number of States in the United States;

"Now, therefore, be it known that I, William H. Seward, Secretary of State of the United States * * * * do hereby certify that the amendment aforesaid has become valid to all intents and purposes as part of the Constitution of the United States."

Will the Tribune please explain how the seven Southern States enumerated above were in the Union on the 18th day of December, 1865 (the date of the announcement quoted from), and out of the Union to all intents and purposes on the 11th day of December, 1867.—N. Y. World.

THE TRIAL OF REV. S. H. TYNG, JR.—Rev. Stephen H. Tyng, Jr., having, within the canonical time, declared to the Bishop his determination not to choose, from the twelve Presbyters named by the standing committee, five to form the court for the trial of his case, the duty of choosing the five devolved, by canon, upon the Bishop of the diocese. He fixed upon the Rev. Dr. Tuttle, of St. Luke's, in this city; Rev. Dr. Beech, of St. Peter's; Rev. Dr. Hoffman, of Grace Church, Brooklyn Heights; Rev. Dean Moore, of Hempstead, and Rev. Samuel Hollingworth, of Dortchester. The court is summoned to meet on the 10th of January, 1868.—N. Y. Times.

Important from Montgomery.

THE NEGROES DENOUNCING THEIR WHITE ALLIES AND OPPOSING THE NEW CONSTITUTION.

Montgomery, Dec. 12.—At a session this morning of the Union Loyal League in this city a preamble and resolutions were adopted denouncing the new Constitution, and calling on the colored leagues to aid in defeating it, declaring that the delegates to the Convention went far beyond the purview of their duties and instructions, and framed a Constitution disfranchising and persecuting a large portion of the most intelligent and law abiding citizens of Alabama, and characterized in every feature by a fiendish motive of revenge and hatred, and resolved

1st. That in the opinion of this Council the said Constitution is an infamous fraud upon the rights of the people of this State, and will, if ratified, inevitably result in the debasement of the white race and the destruction of the black.

2d. That we cannot consistently with our obligations as members of the Union Loyal League of America, give aid or support in any manner whatsoever, to this nefarious scheme to destroy at one fell swoop the peace and happiness for all time to come, of the white people of the State of Alabama.

3d. That we, as Union Republicans and as members of the Montgomery Council, call on all law-abiding and Union-loving colored men of Alabama to unite with us in our efforts to defeat the adoption of this Constitution, which embodies principles dangerous to constitutional liberty, promotive of civil war between the two races, and destructive of all the laws of good government.

4th. That we denounce as contemptible the effort on the part of a few of the members of this Council, who are mere political adventurers to break up the same, because they have failed to make it subservient to their vile political schemes.

The above resolutions are put forth by the authority of the League, as a true copy of the minutes of the Council and signed by its Secretary.

Serious divisions in the Radical ranks are taking place in other sections of the State.

The Advertiser of to-morrow will contain a statement that the colored loyal leaguers in different parts of the State are irreconcilably split because of the objectional features of the Constitution framed by the Convention, and leaving the blacks out in the cold in making up the ticket for State officers.

The Conservatives are organizing clubs throughout the State to defeat the Constitution at the coming election, and in certain sections are receiving large accessions of the colored element. In Pratt county over fifty colored men joined the Conservatives.

A call, signed by colored men for the formation of a colored Conservative Club here, declares its object shall be,

1st. The formation of a spirit of mutual confidence and good feeling between the races South, without which there can be neither peace, prosperity, or repose to either.

2. To support in the approaching election a policy of our own tried people, neighbors and friends, whose roofs shelter us, in preference to that inaugurated by strangers and their allies.

3. To discourage by all means in our power that war of races which evil counsels and ignorance seem to be hastening, and which once inaugurated, will result in our certain and speedy destruction.

Kittrell's Springs Female College.

GRANVILLE COUNTY, N. C.

THE NEXT SESSION of this Institution will open the second Wednesday in February, 1868. The location is unsurpassed for health and accessibility.

During the past session, in a family of nearly two hundred, there has scarcely been a case of sickness. The health of many invalid young ladies has been thoroughly restored by the celebrated mineral water found here and they have presented their studies with entire success.

We are immediately on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, within less than a half mile of Kittrell's Depot, and in telegraphic communication with all parts of the country.

Every facility is afforded for the most thorough and extensive education.

The Faculty is composed of five male Professors and seven lady Teachers.

Everything is new. Our musical instruments, including Piano Organ, Harp and Guitar, are of the finest quality.

Special attention paid to thoroughness in the English Course.

Terms MODERATE and ACCOMMODATING.

The young ladies all worship in the College Chapel, and hence no extra clothing is required. Millinery is in no demand at Kittrell's. Parents tell us that their daughters cost them less here, in this respect, than even at home. Taking into consideration the items of dress and medical attendance, there is no cheaper school in the South. Besides, we are determined to accommodate our patrons as far as we can, as to time of payment, and to put female education within the reach of the people, in the present depressed condition of the country. Our patronage must be EDUCATED.

Valuable Lands and Mills for Sale.

PURSUANT TO A DECREE OF THE COURT of Equity for Johnston County, at Fall Term, 1867, I shall, on Saturday, the 18th day of January next, on the premises, proceed to sell, at public sale, that valuable property, near Boon Hill, in said County, known as consisting of fifteen hundred and ninety-five acres of Land, lying near the North Carolina Railroad, and within one and a half miles of Boon Hill Depot.

The said lands are the first quality of Cotton lands. About 300 acres are cleared, and have been in cultivation. The rest is in primitive forest, and is well timbered, although a considerable quantity of Pine Timber has been cut off.

The improvements consist of an excellent Saw Mill, with a forty-two inch circular saw, run by a Jonvals Turbine Wheel, which, for beauty of work and quickness of cutting, is unsurpassed. There is also a tram road from the Mill to the Railroad where there is a turnout. Also a Grist Mill, which will grind 60 bushels of corn per day. Also a store and Office, a Blacksmith Shop, and four houses for operatives, and beautifully situated on a hill, containing eight rooms, to which are attached all necessary outhouses and Stables, with two Gardens, one of which contains one of the largest and finest Scuppernong Arbors in the State.

The water on the place is excellent, and it is one of the healthiest locations in the low country.

TERMS OF SALE:

One hundred and fifty dollars cash; four thousand two hundred and fifty dollars on the 4th Monday in March, 1868, and notes at six and twelve months from the day of sale, bearing interest. For the balance, bonds with approved security will be required, and the title retained until the purchase money is paid. Possession given on the first day of February, 1868.

DR. J. J. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir—Please send me immediately per Express to Tarboro two dozen more bottles of your Rosadalis. I have carefully examed its Formula, and have used it in my practice in a number of cases. I am well pleased with it. I think it, beyond doubt, the best Alterative I ever used. I have tried it in several cases of Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, &c., with much satisfaction to myself and patients. I have also used it in Secondary and Teritary Syphilis, (one a terrible case of eight years' standing,) in which it acted with surprising and satisfactory effect—making a quick and thorough cure. I have, therefore, no hesitation in recommending it to Physicians and others, as the most reliable Alterative now known.

Respectfully yours, &c.

A Wonderful Cure of Scrofulous White Swelling.

HOME CERTIFICATE.

I hereby certify, that last September I was attacked with White Swelling of the left knee, and also with an enlargement of the glands of the neck—(one tumor reached a large size.) The swelling of the knee was enormous, and was attended with the most excruciating pains. I was so reduced that I was confined to my room over three months. My leg was so completely drawn up, that I could not bend it at all. I tried various remedies, and they failed to give me any relief. I was in this condition when I commenced taking Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis. The swelling in the knee and neck began to subside before I took all of the first bottle. By the time I took the second bottle, the swelling of the neck entirely disappeared and that of the knee nearly so. After taking three bott

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Messrs. B. P. Williamson & Co. advertise a great auction sale to take place next Monday, the 23rd. Inst. to close out.

The reader will observe that in Mr. Pescud's advertisement of Insurance Companies, the Phœnix of Hartford was omitted. This is a good company. Our cotemporaries advertising it will supply the omission.

N. A. Gregory, Esq., of Oxford, offers good town property for sale.

North Carolina Law Book, (Supreme Court Reports) may be had on application to Clerk of Supreme Court.

W. H. Bailey, Esq., at Salisbury will offer at public sale on the 4th. of January a fine stallion and other articles, the property of Capt. Young.

MAYOR'S COURT.—William Peribee, colored, arrested by Chief of Police, J. D. Thompson, for having in his possession a medium size clay-bank mare. He states that he received the animal from Burt Wilson, colored, at Lexington, N. C., to be sold, he retaining one-half the money, and the balance to be returned to Wilson. He, also, stated he bought the horse of a wagoner.—The horse can be found by applying to the Chief of Police, in this city.

The contradictory statements made by Peribee, concerning how he came in possession of the horse, and the low price he offered to sell him for, was the cause of his arrest.

NORTH CAROLINA BUSINESS DIRECTORY.—Messrs. Branson & Farrar will soon issue a second volume of their North Carolina Business Directory. It will be, perhaps, twice as large as the first volume, and will contain much information for business men.

THEM has a large supply of Christmas doings for the young ones. Our friends Bradley & Christophers have a good supply of good things for the children also.

DEMOREST'S Monthly for January is at hand filled with its usual interesting matters. The embellishments are very fine.

COTTON—good middling cotton sold in our market yesterday at 10½ cents.

FRUIT TREES AND GRAPE VINES.—Our friend, Col. Fremont, the other day, in urging our planters to plant fruit trees and grape vines, suggested that they could be easily obtained from the nurseries and vineyards of Delaware and New Jersey. The backwardness of our own nurserymen and vine-growers to advertise, led the Col. to suppose that these articles could not be procured at home.

There are four or five nursery establishments in this State, but we cannot recollect the names of the proprietors, except Messrs. Westbrooks & Co. at Greensboro', who keep on hand a large and splendid variety of all kinds of fruit trees and the best kind of grape vines. Messrs. Allan & Johnson, Richmond, Va., are doing also a large business of this kind, and orders to either of those houses will obtain what is desired.

A SAD AFFAIR.—We learn that on Saturday morning last, a young man came down on the Western train, who ate a lunch which he procured at the Hillsboro' station and who was shortly after taken with violent spasms. On his arrival here, we understand, he was taken to the military hospital, (by whom we have not learned) and there continued to have spasms until he died. We have not been able to see any one acquainted with the facts, but state them as we hear them. We further learn, that the young man is supposed to be named Thompson and a student at Trinity College. It is also suspected that the lunch he purchased was not very wholesome. We publish what we hear of the case, in order that parties interested may enquire into the matter.

PAYING THE PIPER.—Our sister cities of this State which have recently risen to that dignity, it seems, have to pay quite dearly for it. Wilmington, for instance, upon the shewing of the City Treasurer, has disbursed the clever sum of $84,377 62 the past year for the expenses of the city. The receipts from all sources for the same time were $87,820 39. In the expenses, however, are included $13,491 75 for the redemption of her coupon bonds, and yet there is a balance in the Treasury of $3,442 77. This speaks well for the financial management of the city authorities.

We await with some anxiety the exhibit of our City Treasurer for the present year, believing it will show a considerable improvement upon the management of last year.

CHEATING POOR CUFFY.

The Radical Convention in Alabama, utterly dependent as it is upon negro voters, has nominated "mean white" men as candidates for all the State officers—for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Competroller, Treasurer, Superintendent of Education, Commissioner of Internal Resources, Attorney General, and three Judges of the Supreme Court. Out of these eleven nominations not one has been given to a negro, so it will be everywhere. The "mean white men" in the South are using the deluded negroes only to ride into power, and when an office is to be filled cuffy will never once hear "turkey." The negroes may rebel against this unfair distribution of the "spoils," as we learn by telegraph they are doing in Alabama, but they will be whipped into the traces by the potent agency of the League and the Bureau; and the scoundrelly white men who have insinuated themselves into their favor will leave them the empty bag to hold, while they will revel in the sweets of office, and grow fat on public pay.—Lynchburg News.

CRANBERRIES.—It is calculated that the cranberry crop of the Union will this year amount to 100,000 barrels, worth $1,200,000. It is produced in Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, and North Carolina. Of these 100,000 barrels, New Jersey produces about one-half.

The berry is grown in swamp districts that can produce nothing else. If this hardy plant were cultivated, however, the morasses of our coast would become mines of wealth to their owners.

We see barrels of cranberries in our city, which bring a large price that might as well be realized by our farmers as by any other people. We hope that they will take measures to introduce this product of the fens, to which our climate is so much better fitted than that of the country north of us.—Twelve dollars a barrel for fruit grown upon the marshes will make many a man rich, and throw much money into our country, instead of taking it out as it goes now.

We trust that our farmers will take advantage of their unrivalled facilities for the production of this berry, and that in a few years Norfolk county and Princess Anne will raise thousands of barrels for exportation.—Norfolk Journal.

RESIGNATION OF JUDGE THEAKER.—Judge Theaker yesterday tendered his resignation as Commissioner of Patents. Rumor has it that Alfred B. Ely, of Boston, stands a very good chance of being nominated for the position made vacant by Judge Theaker's resignation.—Wash. Express.

SPECIAL NOTICES

Life Insurance continues to occupy the most serious consideration of the heads of families, who, by the casualties of war, short crops and short price of Cotton, have been deprived of the support they relied upon, in case of death for their dependents; and the question with them is, "Which is the OLDEST, SAFEST, LARGEST, MOST ECONOMICAL and RELIABLE COMPANY represented in North Carolina?" I unhesitatingly assure them that I have indisputable evidence that the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE Co. is, without doubt, prepared to prove, from the most trustworthy and authentic official reports, that she has a larger amount of assetts than all other Companies in this State combined; that for eighteen years she has decared an average of fifty per cent dividend; for thirteen years her interest on investment has exceeded her losses; and her vast business is conducted at a much less expense.

All she makes is shared by the assured. No Stockholder receives the lion's share of the profits, and no Company pays its losses more promptly. Last year (1866) she paid to widows and orphans upwards of a Million of Dollars Therefore, apply at once to P. F. PESCUD, Agt,

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17, P. M.

Senate.—A resolution, calling on the President for the instructions to officers under the act of 1862, to suppress rebellion, and to punish treason, with the amount realized, and the names of the victims, was adopted.

Mr. Davis offered a resolution calling for the aggregate expenditure of the Freedmen's Bureau since 1865.

Several Senators objected. A large amount of the disbursements was for white refugees.

The repeal of the cotton tax was resumed.

Mr. Conkling, of New York, proceeded to say, that a helping hand been extended to these destitute communities. The direct tax had been suspended in all the insurrectionary States. The tax had been removed from sugar machinery and other articles which pertained to that country. He would say now that it would have been much better for these people, if one of the parties of this country, and the visible head of the Government, had let them alone. If they had stopped swaggering about, and talking about representation in Congress, and gone to work to build up the impoverished section, they would to-day have been much happier, and so would we. If this tax was taken off, it would wipe out twenty millions of revenue, and they knew not where to go to replace it.

Mr. C. indicated a disposition to vote for a reduction of the tax, but maintained that the proper course was to postpone the bill until February or March, when the whole subject of Revenue would be up, and gave notice of his intention to make a motion to that effect.

Mr. Morton said that cotton should not be entirely exempt from the burdens of the Government.

The discussion assumed a political turn, and the subject was postponed.

House.—Mr. Stevens introduced a bill regarding reconstruction. Objection being made, the bill was postponed.

This bill alters the provisions requiring a majority of the registered votes for the new Constitutions to a majority of the votes cast.

The second section provides for the election of representatives to Congress at the time of the election on the Constitutions, who are to take their seats at the session succeeding the one at which their States are admitted.

Section 3rd provides that, until a new apportionment, the States shall be represented as follows: South Carolina six, two of whom shall be elected by the State at large. North Carolina eight—one by the State at large. Georgia eight—one by the State at large. Florida one. Alabama eight—two by the State at large. Mississippi six—one by the State at large. Louisiana six—one by the State at large. Texas five—one by the State at large. Arkansas three. No number of representatives is given for Virginia.

The Judiciary Committee were directed to continue the examination of Maryland's Republican government.

WASHINGTON MATTERS.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17—P. M.

An order has been issued, dispensing with the Freedmen's Bureau officers and agents in, Maryland, Kentucky, West Virginia, and Tennessee, after the 15th of February, 1868.

Revenue to-day, $279,000.

Official documents show that the negotiations relative to the Alabama claims, have closed,—both parties adhering to their views.

Grant's confidential letter regarding the removal of Stanton and Sheridan is published.

VIRGINIA RECONSTRUCTION CONVENTION.

RICHMOND, Dec. 17, P. M.

The Committee on Finance, to whom was referred a resolution, instructing the Auditor to suspend payment of any interest on the State debt, until the Convention was satisfied that there was money enough in the Treasury to pay the whole, reported adversely to any action on the subject; having received assurances from the Treasurer that the State would be able to pay all demands as presented. The report was adopted.

A resolution to interfere with the lease of a Ferry, was laid on the table by a decided majority, after speeches, in which the ground was taken that the Convention had no right to determine questions of law, or grant injunctions.

A resolution appointing a Committee to report whether the Convention has power of legislation, and to ask Gen. Schofield's opinion, was laid on the table.

The following resolutions were received:

For incorporating a provision in the Constitution, that immigrants to this State shall not be sued in the Courts here, for debts incurred before immigration, and exempting a certain amount of real and personal property of such immigrants from seizure for debt.

For changing the system of State laws, from remedial to preventative. The preamble of this resolution refers to the prostitution of the liberty of speech, and of the press.

For the punishment of attempts to intimidate votes at the ratification election.

For protecting loyal citizens from being distressed by disloyal tax collectors, for taxes levied years ago.

A colored delegate offered a resolution prohibiting any distinction in the Rail Road cars, or other public conveyances, on account of color. Referred.

A resolution to adjourn over the holidays and to waive claim to pay during the holidays, was laid over.

LIFE INSURANCE.

[From the Insurance Monitor and Wall Street Review, New York.]

A Well-deserved Success—The Equitable Life Insurance Company.

The approaching demolition of seven buildings, consisting of that almost immemorial landmark, "Old Guerrin's," the less ancient "Smallwood's," and the present office-building of the American Express Company, on the southeast corner of Broadway and Cedar street, together with large adjoining buildings on the latter street, is attributable to that modern insurance giant, the Equitable Life. These seven buildings are all to be replaced by one, six stories in height, besides basement, and having a frontage of 90 feet 2 inches on Broadway, and one hundred and thirty-seven feet four inches on Cedar street. A member of the first architects in the country was employed in perfecting plans for the structure, so as to make it in style, accommodation, and convenience, superior to any other building of the kind yet erected.
The building will, however, not only be made to accommodate the Company, but so arranged that the rental of such part as is not occupied by them will return an interest on the investment. The magnitude and surpassing growth of the Equitable Life not only justify this new investment, but render it both expedient and necessary. Although this Company has been only eight years in business, its policies issued during its eighth year covered an insurance amounting to over thirty-five millions of dollars. The sum assured by it up to the present time approaches 100 000,000; its accumulations have risen up to 5,000,000; its annual income to three millions, and will in the ensuing year doubtless expand to five million dollars.
For this rapid increase and substantial success there are abundant and most satisfactory reasons. They are found in the numerous solid advantages the Company affords. In the fact that it is purely mutual, and that all its profits go to the insured on the first of February, every year, at which time a large dividend has been regularly paid, amounting last year to six hundred thousand dollars. Its mode of applying dividends so as to accommodate them to the circumstances of the policy holders, is unequ

TWO BRIDES.

Under the splendor of Fashion's fame,
Thronged with the worldly, the wealthy, the vain,
An ocean of gems in a soft lace mist,
Archbishop, two bishops, a dean to "assist!"

Flowers and feathers, and jewels, and lace,
An "Ivory" and a "rose bud" face,
Gossamer white o'er a forest of gold,
Beauty (and money) in every fold!

Bound together for good and for ill,
With a cup of wealth 'twould be hard to fill;
'Tis already full of the golden store—
So full that a few of its drops run o'er.

A fearful power for weal or for woe—
A power that only a few men can know;
The power to help mankind to good
Who use it well, as a Christian should.

Ah! proud young noble and lady fair,
Life's race beginning—glorious pair!
Bethink ye well of gold's great might;
Two paths are open—choose the right!

* * * * * * *

Under a moss-covered ivied dome
Within the sight of her childhood's home,
Scarcely a rustle, scarcely a sound,
Save the half-breathed sigh of her friends around!

Grey silk, guiltless of flounces and bows,
White bonnet adorned with a single rose,
Soft, tender dove eyes, looking down
With a word of trust in their half-veiled brown!

The father-rector, godly, wise,
With faltering voice, with dew-wet eyes,
Speaking the words in a solemn tone
That shall give his daughter to one alone.

One! till together the pair shall lie
'Neath the daisied green of the turf close by;
One! till the trials of life shall cease,
And the twin-hearts rest in the sleep of peace!

AARON BURR'S SARCASM.—When Aaron Burr returned to New York City to practice law, after his voluntary exile in Europe, he found the late Rev. Jedediah Burchard, then a celebrated revivalist, holding a series of protracted meetings in his family church. He attended from habit; always went late, and disturbed the services by attracting to himself the attention of the audience on account of his infamous notoriety as the man who shot Alexander Hamilton, and who had been tried for treason. Mr. Burchard resolved to rebuke him openly. The next Sabbath, when he came in and got about half-way up the aisle, the clergyman paused in his discourse, and pointing to Col. Burr, said in the most scathing manner: "You hoary headed old sinner, I'll appear against you at the day of judgment!" The proud, defiant old man, standing as erect as ever, with that perfect composure which never deserted him, and fixing his fine grey eyes on the occupant of the pulpit, replied:—"Mr. Burchard, I have observed through a long course of professional experience, that the very meanest class of criminals are those who turn State's evidence."

[Frankfort Correspondence Chicago Tribune.)

A WONDERFUL CLOCK.—We were at Strasburg, France, on the Sabbath, and saw the wonderful cathedral clock mark the hour of twelve. The cock duly flapped his wings three times, and crowed right lustily; the Apostles marched round the figure of the Savior; the urchin turned over his hour-glass, and his fellow struck the bell, and all performed their parts with their usual punctuality. The clock tells not only the hours as they pass, but the days of the week and the year of grace, marks the equinoxes, the length of the days, the position of the earth in the ecliptic, and the equation of time, and it is claimed that so perfectly does it indicate the movements of the earth that it will perform the same kind offices for the people who live a thousand years hence. It certainly is a marvel of astronomical knowledge and mechanical accuracy and skill; but so far as we could judge it is more curious than practically valuable, it, with the grand cathedral in which it stands, serves to attract many strangers to Strasburg, and certainly in that respect it is of great value to the inhabitants of the city.

SHAWS AND STRAWS.—An incident is mentioned by a correspondent, who was desired by his mother to go to neighbor Shaw's and see if he had any straw suitable for filling beds. "Mr. Shaw," says our informant, "was blessed with a goodly number of Misses Shaw, and I therefore felt a little timid at encountering them, and to make the matter worse, I arrived just as the family were seated at dinner. Stepping in the doorway, hat in hand, I stammered out, 'Mr. Straw, can you spare me enough Shaw to fill a couple of beds?' 'Well,' replied the old gentlemen, glancing around at his large family, and enjoying my mistake, 'I don't know but I can; how many will you need?' Before I could recover, those hateful Shaw girls burst into a chorus of laughter, and I made a very hasty exit."

CROUP CURED BY SULPHUR.—The Medical Gazette of Paris states that M. Langunterie of Paris, after observing the effect of sulphur on the odium of grape vines, was led to administer it in several cases of croup. He mixes a teaspoonful of sulphur in a glass of water, and gives a teaspoonful of this mixture every hour. The effect is described as wonderful. The disease is cured in two days, the only symptom remaining being a cough arising from the presence of loose membrane in the trachea. Mr. L. says he has followed this plan in seven cases, all being severe, especially the last, in which was cyanotic, with protuded rolling of eyes and noisy respiration.
